

Close My Eyes

Words and music by Judi Jaeger

Your words across the sky, a voice on a thin phone line.
I use my imagination while I mark the time.
I'm staring at your photo from last July.
But, staring doesn't seem to work so I'll just try

And, close my eyes and fly to you in dreams
I'll close my eyes and fly

Maybe I can hear the sound that beats inside your chest.
And, find that perfect rhythm that let's you love me best.
I'm singing still the song we sang when you said goodbye
But singing doesn't seem to help so I'll just try

And, close my eyes and fly to you in dreams
I'll close my eyes and fly

How can absence makes the heart grow fonder when our love's already great.
And I surely don't know how much longer I can wait before this heart might break.

And, crying doesn't seem to help so I'll just try

And, close my eyes and fly to you in dreams
I'll close my eyes and fly.
Close my eyes, Close my eyes,
Close my eyes and fly. Fly. Fly.
